For over 50 years, Sidock Architects has completed projects for commercial Clients in nearly every imaginable project type. From brand new facilities, to renovations, additions, and historic preservations, we have designed auto dealerships, recreation facilities, retail of all types, financial institutions, office buildings, corporate headquarters, research and development laboratories, restaurants, hotels, multi-family residential complexes, and senior living complexes, to name a few. We are skilled in working with Clients to meet their demanding schedules and we can design to the tightest budget or to the grandest vision one might have. Our client list includes business owners, both small and large, developers, and property managers and over the years, many of our projects have either won design awards or been recognized in civic and trade publication.
